Come, share your voice to help us create a New Relationship between First Nations people and the Province of British Columbia - one based on respect, trust, and a mutual appreciation of our distinct ways of being.

The New Relationship Trust was established to address the most critical issues faced by First Nations people in BC - everything from poverty to illiteracy; lack of rights to title and the disappearance of languages. We are scripting a new future for BC's aboriginal people that will see stronger, healthier and more prosperous communities and we want to hear your voice.

Attend a regional meeting, and help create a better future.

All meetings open to the public
Please RSVP by phone
