

NEW RELATIONSHIP TRUST

New Relationship Trust BC First Nation Youth Language Grant Initiative

The New Relationship Trust (NRT) recognizes the importance of revitalizing British Columbia (BC) First Nations languages and has identified Youth Language funding as a strategic priority. Preservation and restoration of First Nations languages is integral to cultural identity. NRT will begin to accept completed applications on April 11, 2019 until funds are exhausted.

The NRT has allocated $200,000 for 2019-20 to assist First Nations in BC with Youth Language initiatives.

Who Can Apply?

The Youth Language Grant is available to BC First Nations youth groups in BC at the community level.

Initiative Objectives

The purpose of this initiative is to assist First Nations youth groups to implement language revitalization projects.

Examples of Ineligible Expenses or Projects

- Projects currently funded under another NRT initiative with an outstanding final report
- Tuition, fees and school related costs
- Existing administration costs and overhead costs
- Honorariums or existing staff wages or salaries

Maximum Initiative Contributions

The maximum amount available is $4,000 per First Nations youth language projects.

Only one language project per First Nation and/or community will be funded per year.

Application Checklist (please submit all documentation in application):

- Completed and Signed Application Form
- Provide a description of how the language project will be delivered. Description should be no more than 2 pages.

- Budget breakdown of all expenses to complete the project. Please ensure there are no ineligible expenses on the budget.
- Letter of support from the local BC First Nation or First Nation Government on letterhead

Approval / Evaluation Process

Applications will be reviewed by the NRT Selection Committee and must meet all project requirements.

Reporting Requirements

If successful in your application, your youth group will be required to submit a final report with participant and all financial information.

The narrative report will discuss how the language revitalization project was implemented. Other materials including participant, project evaluations and pictures may be published in the NRT Newsletter.

Deadline Date

Youth Language Grant applications will be accepted until funds are exhausted.

Applications and proposals can be emailed, faxed or dropped off in person to:
